Medical Anthropology - Andrea S. Wiley 2009
Intended as the primary text for introductory courses on medical anthropology, this book integrates human biological data relevant to health and disease with both evolutionary theory and the social environments that more often than not produce major challenges to health and survival. Because students who take this fastest-growing anthropology course come from a variety of disciplines (anthropology, biology, especially pre-med students, and health sciences, especially), the text does not assume anything beyond a basic high-school level familiarity with human biology and anthropology. The authors first present basic biological information on a particular health condition and then expand their analysis to include evolutionary, historical, and cross-cultural perspectives. Among the topics covered are nutrition, infectious disease, stress, reproductive health, behavioral disease, aging, race/racism and health, mental health, and healers and healing.

L'Ensilage des balles rondes - Québec (Province). Groupe spécial de travail sur les techniques d'ensilage de balles rondes 1990

Les ensilages d'herbe non hachée et pressée en balles rondes conservées sous film de plastique sont apparus dans le Nord de l'Europe au cours de la décennie 1970. Au Québec, ce phénomène date de 1982. Un groupe de travail multidisciplinaire composé de zootechniciens, d'ingénieurs, de spécialistes de la conservation des fourrages et d'économistes a tenté d'apprécier cette méthode de façon objective à partir de données factuelles. Après un bref rappel du processus général de la fermentation des ensilages, cette publication traite de la fabrication, de la conservation, de l'utilisation et de l'économie de l'ensilage de balles rondes.

Poetic Illumination - Rosemary Lancaster 2010
In 1980 an exhibition of the Illuminated Manuscripts of René Char held in Paris took the artistic and literary worlds by surprise. It featured illustrations by twenty-eight artists of an array of Char's hand-written poems. Char's artistic associations, spanning seven decades, remain remarkable today. Not only was he amply illustrated by those he called his "substantial allies"; the dedicatory poems and prose pieces they inspired, written with revelatory flair, constitute a unique corpus in the history of art and poetic enterprise. This book brings together an exemplary number of the artists Char prized over time: Dali and Kandinsky in the early years; later, Picasso, Braque and Miró; yet later, Vieira da Silva, Nicolas de Staël and Alexandre Galperine. It also considers the poet's fascination with Corot, Courbet, La Tour, Van Gogh and the cave art of Lascaux.
